

People do not choose to be homeless.

Every person's pathway into homelessness is different. There are many reasons a person may become homeless, and many of these reasons are beyond the person's control.

